

CLIMATE JUSTICE YOUTH GATHERING

Join other high school students and young adults for an in-person conversation about the connection between environmental, racial and economic justice. Learn about the local efforts of young people for systemic change. Unleash the power you have to be an agent of hope in protecting our home - it is your future.

When? Two Mondays, July 31 & August 7 from 7 to 8:30 PM.

Where? Immaculate Conception Church /San Damiano trailer on Burch Ave.

Special Guests :

- Dr. Kristi Pullen Fedinick, an environmental scientist who has worked at the highest level to help protest communities disproportionately impacted by environmental degradation.
- Marinel Sumook Ubaldo, a prominent, young Filipino climate activist and a student at Nicholas School of the Environment at Duke.

To read their bios, see the QR code

To register, email Sue Concannon at susan.c@earthlink.net by Friday, July 28.

Free ice cream sundae bar for everyone.

